

FY16 CBE OPPORTUNITY GUIDE

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA GOVERNMENT

CERTIFIED BUSINESS ENTERPRISE SPENDING

GOALS BY AGENCY

Connecting Small Businesses with Local Government Procurement Opportunities

Mayor Muriel Bowser

Dear Small Business Stakeholder:

Small businesses are the engine of our economy. As Mayor, I am committed to creating an environment where District businesses can start, grow, and thrive. That includes leveraging the Government of the District of Columbia's procurement dollars to support small business growth.

Historically the District's process for connecting businesses with local procurement opportunities has been flawed. Earlier this year, my Administration set out to change that.

We are re-envisioning the way we approach procurement. I am holding District government agencies accountable so that they give Certified Small Business Enterprises (CBEs) a fair shot. To that end, I have established FY16 CBE spending goals for District agencies.

Unlike previous years, my team conducted a top-to-bottom, data-driven analysis of past practices and set realistic, but bold, CBE goals. My Administration is committed to spending $317M with CBEs in FY16.

We are confident that these goals accurately predict the very least amount that District agencies could spend with CBEs. And I will hold District agencies accountable to these goals.

Over the coming weeks, we will roll out a suite of services for CBEs to navigate the procurement process. We will make the process more transparent, and we will connect businesses with available procurement opportunities.

To get us started, we are releasing this book, which includes an agency-by-agency overview of CBE spending availability. We are also launching a website (cbeconnect.dc.gov) to provide an online, user-friendly platform for CBEs to search for opportunities.

Small and local businesses are critical to our city, and they are vital to our ongoing success. As a fifth generation Washingtonian, I have witnessed how small businesses have transformed our city, invested in our communities, and given countless District residents a pathway to the middle class. I am committed to supporting our small business community, because they have given so much to our city.

Sincerely,

Mayor Muriel Bowser

Director Ana Harvey

Dear Small Business Stakeholder:

As Director of the Department of Small and Local Business Development (DSLBD), and a former small business owner, I appreciate the Mayor's and Councilmember Orange's commitment to utilizing local procurement power to drive small business growth and development. Driving economic development is a top priority for the Bowser Administration. One of the best ways to achieve this goal is through growing our small and local businesses.

Mayor Bowser charged me with developing a transparent system that ensures maximum CBE participation and provides a platform where small businesses can successfully compete and win District government contracts. We have focused our efforts on ensuring compliance with the District's CBE law to ensure CBEs are accessing opportunities fairly and with ease. We have reached significant milestones in developing a simpler and effective expendable budget goal setting process where agencies will be held accountable. To establish an increasingly transparent system where CBEs are connected in real time with contracting opportunities, we are releasing this book and launching CBE Connect, a new website that will be a one-stop shop for CBE contracting and procurement opportunities.

The Bowser Administration is committed to a fair and accessible procurement process, as I am. I look forward to continuing the improvement of the District's contracting and procurement program to better position our CBEs to compete and win.

Sincerely,

Ana R. Harvey
Director, Department of Small and Local Development

Councilmember Vincent Orange (At-Large)

Dear Small Business Stakeholder:

I am pleased to join Mayor Muriel Bowser and Ana Harvey, Director of the Department of Small and Local Business Development (DSLBD), to announce the FY16 expendable budget of $634 million, of which 50%, or $317 million, is required by District agencies to be spent with certified business enterprises (CBEs). The Mayor's leadership and commitment to realizing the full potential of small and local business development is to be commended.

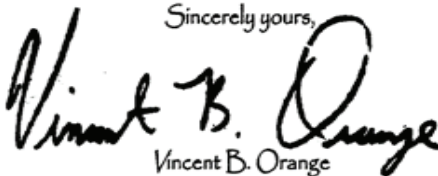

As Chair of the Committee on Business, Consumer and Regulatory Affairs, which has oversight of DSLBD, I strongly believe the District can meet the goal and exceed what the law requires. I introduced legislation that overhauled the CBE program: the "Small and Certified Business Enterprise Development and Assistance Amendment Act of 2013" and the "Small and Certified Business Enterprise Waiver and Recertification Amendment Act of 2014". Both were passed unanimously. These measures provide:

- CBE certification period extended from 2 years to 3 years;
- If there is no material change, CBEs are allowed to self-re-certify on subsequent certification registration;
- For FY16, each agency must submit a spending plan to achieve their spending goal (all agency spending plans must total $317 million);
- Agencies are prohibited from spending more than 50% of its expendable budget with non CBEs unless granted a waiver by the Mayor;
- Before making a determination on a request for a waiver, DSLBD must notice all registered CBEs of the waiver request and post the waiver request online;
- 35% CBE subcontracting plan must be submitted for construction and non-construction projects; and
- Contracts that are $250,000 or less must be set aside for CBEs.

It is imperative to keep small businesses in the District solvent because small businesses create jobs, pay taxes, and provide opportunities. Studies show that small businesses hire local residents and local residents pay local taxes. We must support businesses located in the District that are subject to District taxation and hire District residents.

More than ever, the District is committed to fostering an environment where small businesses can achieve success. I, along with the Mayor and Ana Harvey, are committed to ensuring that small businesses are afforded the opportunity to grow, thrive and prosper in the District of Columbia.

Sincerely yours,

Vincent B. Orange
Councilmember, At-Large

Committee on Business, Consumer and Regulatory Affairs

The Council of the District of Columbia Committee on Business, Consumer, and Regulatory Affairs is responsible for matters concerning small and local business development policy; consumer and regulatory affairs; and the regulation of banks and banking activities, securities, and insurance, including private health insurance, but not including the Health Benefit Exchange. How to Find an Opportunity

Welcome to the District of Columbia Government CBE Opportunity Guide!

The guide lists: (1) FY16 expendable budgets by agency, including operating and capital dollars, (2) CBE spending goals, (3) planned acquisitions (contracts over $1million), and (4) potential business opportunities where CBE capacity has not been available to fulfill procurements in the past. Additional CBE opportunities, beyond the $317 million identified in this guide, are available through construction projects and other capital improvement projects. The District is launching a website dedicated to making it easier for CBEs to find opportunities as they become available: cbeconnect.dc.gov.

This guide is one part of a larger suite of services that the District is launching to connect CBEs to procurement opportunities. Each agency page of this guide contains the following information:

FY 16 CBE Spending Goal

This section represents the minimum that each monitored District agency is required to spend with CBEs in FY16.

How the CBE Goal is Calculated?

This section provides the exact calculation that was used to determine each agency's CBE goal. The pie chart on the left shows the total agency budget broken out by personnel and fixed costs that cannot be performed by the CBE community, separated from the "purchasing power" of the agency. The pie chart on the right shows the purchasing power of the agency showcasing (1) the agency's expendable budget, half of which must be used to procure from CBEs and (2) components of the agency budget that are not subject to the CBE goal requirements.

FY16 Planned Acquisitions

In order to provide more transparency to the procurement process, the Planned Acquisitions section outlines each agency's planned FY16 (October 1, 2015 through September 30, 2016) contracts over $1 million with information on the associated National Institute of Governmental Purchasing (NIGP) codes, descriptions and estimated contract amount. This is a snapshot of agency planned procurements. Please visit cbeconnect.dc.gov for more detailed information.

Potential Business Opportunities (where CBE capacity was not available)

This section outlines upcoming contract needs identified by agencies that cannot be fulfilled by a CBE as capacity may not exist for a CBE to perform the work. These opportunities are highlighted as a way to begin the process to better connect the CBE community with the needs of District government agencies.

The list below identifies some of the top areas where agencies identified CBE capacity was not available:

1. Specialized Services: Services that require specific expertise unique to a particular agency. Examples include biologists to support watershed restoration efforts and special education services for students with disabilities.

2. Real Estate Services: Services necessary to execute real estate transactions including, but not limited to: real estate acquisition, loan processing and associated services.
3. Medicaid Payments and Related Services: Services to assist in the administration of the District's Medicaid program including, but not limited to: auditing, billing, and claims. Special licensure may be required.
4. Professional Services (Human care): Services to assist in the administration of the District's health and human services programs. Examples include drug treatment, medical services, and social work.
5. Financial Operation/Audit Services: Audit and financial services necessary to meet regulatory compliance requirements. Special licensure may be required. Examples include, but are not limited to auditors, accountants and other financial professionals.

Key Terms Defined:

- FY16 Budget: The agency's Fiscal Year 2016 total budget, including operating and capital dollars. FY16 began October 1, 2015 and ends September 30, 2016.
- Personnel and Fixed Costs: The portions of the FY16 budget that are not subject to the CBE law due to the fact that they account for personnel salaries and benefits and fixed costs like rent and utilities.
- Approved Agency Exceptions: The funds District agencies request to be removed from their expendable budget due to the reasons outlined in 27 DCMR 830.6 and approved by the DSLBD Director. Exceptions include: (1) no CBE is available to provide this service or commodity and (2) a determination that the agency is limited to procuring with a certain non-CBE vendor due to proprietary/ownership restrictions, such as customized software or Federal restrictions.
- Expendable Budget: The amount of the agency budget remaining for purchasing goods and services after CBE exclusions and exceptions are applied. By law, agencies are required to spend 50% of their expendable budget with CBEs.
- FY16 CBE Spending Goal: The amount each DC government agency is required to spend with CBEs in FY16. The goal is set by dividing the expendable budget in half.
- Purchasing Power: The total funding the agency has available to spend on goods and services after personnel and fixed costs are removed.
- CBE Capacity Not Available: All of the acquisitions where the agency requested an exception on the basis that there were no CBEs available to provide the goods or services or the services are provided by a nonprofit organization.
- NOT CBE Eligible: Acquisitions that due to other state or federal laws controlling the expenditure of the funds, do not allow for the District to enforce CBE set aside laws. (Example: Other state contracts, federal dollars).
- Proprietary Goods or Services: Goods or services that cannot be contracted out to a CBE because they are owned by another entity. (Example: Lexis Nexus, WestLaw, etc.)
- Independent Agency: An agency that exists outside of the Executive authority of the Mayor.
- Non-monitored Agency: Agencies or funds that do not have an expendable budget and are not required to participate in the District's CBE goal setting process.
